Fried Peanut Processing Line Processing Procedure

Fried peanut processing line the flowchart is as follow:

Peanut/broad beans— peanut kernel blanching-- peanut kernel red skin peeling--opening (broad beans)--peanut frying--fried nuts de-oiling--peanut flavoring—fried peanuts packaging

The blanching machine is used to cook the peanut, let the peanut kernel red skin easy to peeling and keep the nature flavor of the peanut.

The peeling machine is a wet peeling machine, high peeling rate and no damage to the peanut.

For the broad beans, we should use the broad beans slitting machine for incision in order to make the beans easy to fry and can absorb the flavoring thoroughly and evenly.

Frying is a core step.

The purpose of the frying is to reduce the moisture in the peanut and get crispy peanut.

When frying, please grasp the right time, neither too early nor too late.

The fried peanut is placed into the de-oiling machine to extrude the spare oil.,the extruded oil can be use again to achieve the purpose of energy saving

The flavoring machine is used to season the peanut which make the peanut more taste, the customers can season various flavors according to their own intention.

The last step is packing.

Vacuum nitrogen packaging machine can finish large and high efficiency packaging.

Through the packing, the fried peanut can keep tasty and no damage for a long time.
