Description

Military uniform — service dress, combat dress and working uniform for armed forces, police and security organisations, supplied to a customer's own pattern, colour and insignia requirements.

Uniform procurement is mostly about consistency and repeatability. A unit re-ordering next year needs the same shade, the same cut and the same durability as this year's issue, which depends on fabric sourcing and pattern control rather than on the garment design. Fabric weight should be matched to climate, as a uniform specified for a temperate posting is wrong for a tropical one. Contact EMC Machines Manufactures with your pattern, fabric specification, size breakdown and quantity for a quotation.
